FBI puts squeeze on starlets — & their bootleg implants!

HOLLYWOOD — In a series of lightning-like raids, agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation descended upon dozens of unlicensed plastic surgery centers throughout Hollywood to seize thousands upon thousands of counterfeit silicone-gel breast implants.

By MARK GROUBERT
Weekly World News

A reliable law enforcement official revealed to Weekly World News that many of the illegal implant recipients who were waiting to undergo surgery "fought like tigresses" to prevent the G-men from seizing their counterfeit breasts.

One actress actually fled a clinic with a pair of bootleg implants in her purse. The 22-year old woman, whose name was witheld, barricaded herself within her Los Feliz condo and was later talked into surrendering by an LAPD SWAT team commander without incident.

TALENT AGENT David DiVincetis.

Following orders handed down by the Food and Drug Administration, the FBI along with local law enforcement officials, scooped up the counterfeit breasts, most of which had been smuggled into the United States through Mexico. The substandard contraband was funneled into the U.S. by the use of "mules," reported a local law enforcement official familiar with the investigation.

"The silicone-based implants in no way reflected the current state-of-the-art FDA approved saline breast implants," claimed an FDA spokesperson.

"These were pre-1993 silicone gel models. We thought they were completely off the market. I guess there are still plenty of them South of the Border," added the spokesperson.

The 1993 restriction was spurred by the concern that silicone gel leaking into the body could be harmful, and by the inability of the manufacturers to provide adequate safety data on their implants.

An unnamed Screen Actors Guild member informed Weekly World News' West Coast Bureau Desk that there has been a burgeoning underground marketing of the cheaper silicone models in recent years. "This has been a taboo Hollywood secret since the early '90s," claimed the SAG member.

Simultaneous raids were carried out throughout the Hollywood Hills and the San Fernando Valley at the exclusive homes of actresses and models who, according to unnamed sources, were "extremely uncooperative."

David DiVincetis, a talent agent for two of the stunned starlets, expressed the outrage of Tinseltown. "These girls worked damn hard for those breasts. They had no idea they were counterfeit. They need them for work. How would you like it if someone came to your job and kicked the shovel out of your hand?"

AUTHORITIES escort an under-developed starlet downtown for questioning after raid on unlicensed clinic.

The FBI refused all comment on what they termed "an ongoing investigation" into what has now been dubbed "Operation Cleavage," by the movie industry bible, The Hollywood Reporter.

A Los Angeles Police Department spokesperson said, "The counterfeit breasts will be destroyed at our regular demolition site in San Bernadino. We'll monitor the situation very closely to make certain each and every one of the dangerous counterfeit breasts are eradicated from the face of

PUNK BAND VOWS TO RUIN QUEEN'S PARTY

LONDON — Twenty-five years after making their mark as the official scourge of British royalty, the legendary punk band the Sex Pistols may regroup to mark the Queen's golden jubilee, a tour promoter says. The gigs would take place June 3 when Queen Elizabeth will celebrate 50 years on the throne.

"I can confirm I've been parties offering substantial sums of money for the Sex Pistols to regroup," said promoter John Giddings.

The controversial band released the Queen (She Ain't No Human Being)" in June 1977 at the same time Her Majesty celebrated her silver jubilee.

Despised by authorities for their anarchist themes, the band was arrested as they performed on a riverboat on the day of the Queen's

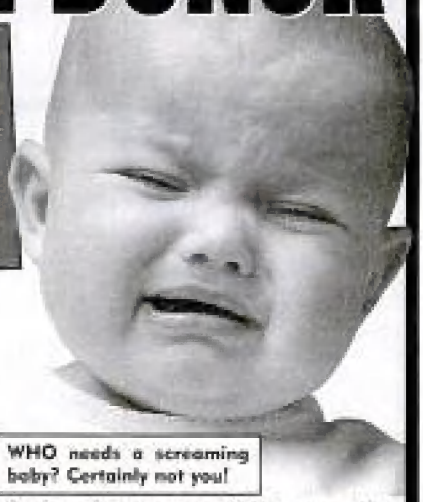
HOW TO CHOOSE A SPERM DONOR

— so you don't get stuck with a 'lemon'



WHO needs a screaming baby? Certainly not you!

SAN FRANCISCO — If you're an infertile or lesbian couple and ready to have a baby, the perfect solution may be get a male pal to donate his sperm. But watch out — the wrong sperm donor can turn your lives upside down and leave you with a baby that isn't right for you!

"Some men turn out to be 'sperm donors from Hell' who insist on remaining in the child's life against the infertile couple's wishes — or worse still, they turn out to be creeps whose fantasy is to bed a gay woman and 'convert' her," said a fertility expert who advises gay and infertile couples who want to bring a baby into their lives.

"Because babies pick up on tension in the home, the interference of the donor can cause grave and lifelong behavioral problems and saddle you with the unhappy — and unhealthy — kind of baby you do not deserve."

Here, from the experts, are some tips for choosing the right sperm donor:

● Consider all your options. Remember, there are other ways to have a child these days, including adoption. Ask yourself how important it really is to be the biological mother of your child.

● Choose a male friend who has physical traits you admire — ideally one who resembles your partner.

● Quiz the candidate about his desire to be a dad and make sure he has no interest in maintaining a relationship with the child.

● Make sure he understands that you plan to become pregnant through artificial insemination and there will be absolutely no "doing it the old-fashioned way."

● Note that in some states, a known donor can retain parental rights, so research the laws in your area. If the prospective donor must sign away such rights, have a lawyer draw up the documents and get the biological father to sign them before the procedure.

● Consider an anonymous donor. If you can't find Mr. Right, consult your doctor, who can assist you in obtaining sperm from a sperm bank.

● Be forewarned. If you and your partner are hoping for a cute little girl, artificial insemination may not be for you. Experts don't know why, but 75 to 80 percent of babies born through artificial insemination are boys.

SPACE ALIEN LANDING

UFO will touch down on Bourbon Street February 12!

BOURBON STREET in New Orleans will never be the same after the space alien shows up.

By MIKE FOSTER /Weekly World News

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Mardi Gras will be more exciting than ever this year — because a space alien plans to descend in a flying saucer in the middle of the festivities!

"I'm going to land my UFO on Bourbon Street on Fat Tuesday," the mysterious being, known as P'Lod, reportedly told a U.S. senator. "Mankind is finally ready to know that we are here."

The astonishing announcement comes from UFO investigator Barry Neckles of New Orleans, who claims he got the news straight from the unnamed senator's mouth. "My source is unimpeachable. She has had the most intimate contact imaginable with P'Lod — and if anyone knows what the alien is planning, she does," says Neckles.

"This will be a monumental step forward in human history — the dawn of a new age."

Neckles' announcement has brought UFO enthusiasts flocking to New Orleans.

Officials predict this will be the most crowded Mardi Gras ever, with the streets jam-packed with thousands eager to have a close encounter with the strange visitor. "I'm going to be the first one to string Mardi Gras beads around P'Lod's neck," vows a pretty 22-year-old Tulane College coed named Lisa. "I want to show him just how friendly us Earth girls can be."

The benevolent E.T. hails from a planet that has been working behind the scenes to help mankind and he has "played a significant role in U.S. politics," Neckles says.

"This is the same alien who endorsed Bill Clinton for President in 1992, then backed George W. Bush in 2000, delivering the handful of votes in Florida he needed to win."

And politics makes strange bedfellows. Last September, ex-President Clinton allegedly caught the alien cuddling his senator wife Hillary in a New York hotel room.

Neckles says the aliens decided it was time to welcome humanity into the intergalactic community after witnessing America's response to the heinous September 11 attacks.

"P'Lod's people fully impressed by our restraint," says Neckles. "They decided that the human race was finally mature enough to be entrusted with all their knowledge."

The E.T.s plan to introduce a vast array of society-transforming technology to Earth.

"We're going to have better gadgets than ever before, including 3-D TV," says Neckles.

But P'Lod's spectacular arrival won't be all serious. The E.T. intends to fully participate in the Mardi Gras experience — getting plastered on booze, dancing in the street, joining impromptu conga lines and even gawking at bare-breasted coeds.

"My source tells me P'Lod really plans to paint the town red," Neckles reveals.

"P'Lod has seen countless videos of Mardi Gras and he's always thought it looked like fun, but he couldn't join in before now. He wants to show humans how 'down to Earth' and nonthreatening his people are, so expect him to really let his hair down.

"P'Lod especially hopes that some sexy college girls will flash their hooters at him.

"Once he steps out of that EVERYONE will be watching for P'Lod's flying saucer. Judging from these two party-goers, P'Lod should fit right in.

Beat baldness – with chia seeds

Just add water – & kiss your chrome dome goodbye!

BIRMINGHAM, England — Rodney Buckwell draws stares and remarks for his manicured green hair, but says he doesn't mind as much as the taunts he endured as a bald man.

"Now, it's stuff like, 'Hey, shrub head!' which sure beats 'baboon butt'!" says Buckwell, 31, who, along with hundreds of other men, has "cured" his baldness with a special skull cap peppered with ordinary chia seeds available at a lawn and garden store near you.

Inspired by the rapid growing and easy-to-style chia sprigs that adorn handmade decorative clay busts such as the heavily trademarked "Chia Pets," Buckwell applies a thin, latex skull cap to his hairless skull, coats it with a layer of moistened, goopy seeds and waits for his hair to sprout.

BEFORE: Rodney lacked locks — and self-esteem.

It doesn't take his pate long to go from a fuzzy jade buzz cut to any length or style he desires.

"I can grow an afro in about a week and then pluck myself back to a flat-top in minutes," says Buckwell.

"Or, by simply varying planting dates by a week or so, I can achieve different heights of growth — short on the sides with a Mohawk down the middle, for example.

"It all depends on my mood or social situation — whether it's a nightclub or a business meeting, I've got it all covered.

"The only problem is keeping my head moist enough to insure a proper, luxuriant green growth. And the cap and plant a new crop!"

Other formerly hairless men who have enthusiastically adopted the topiary toupees echo Buckwell's comments.

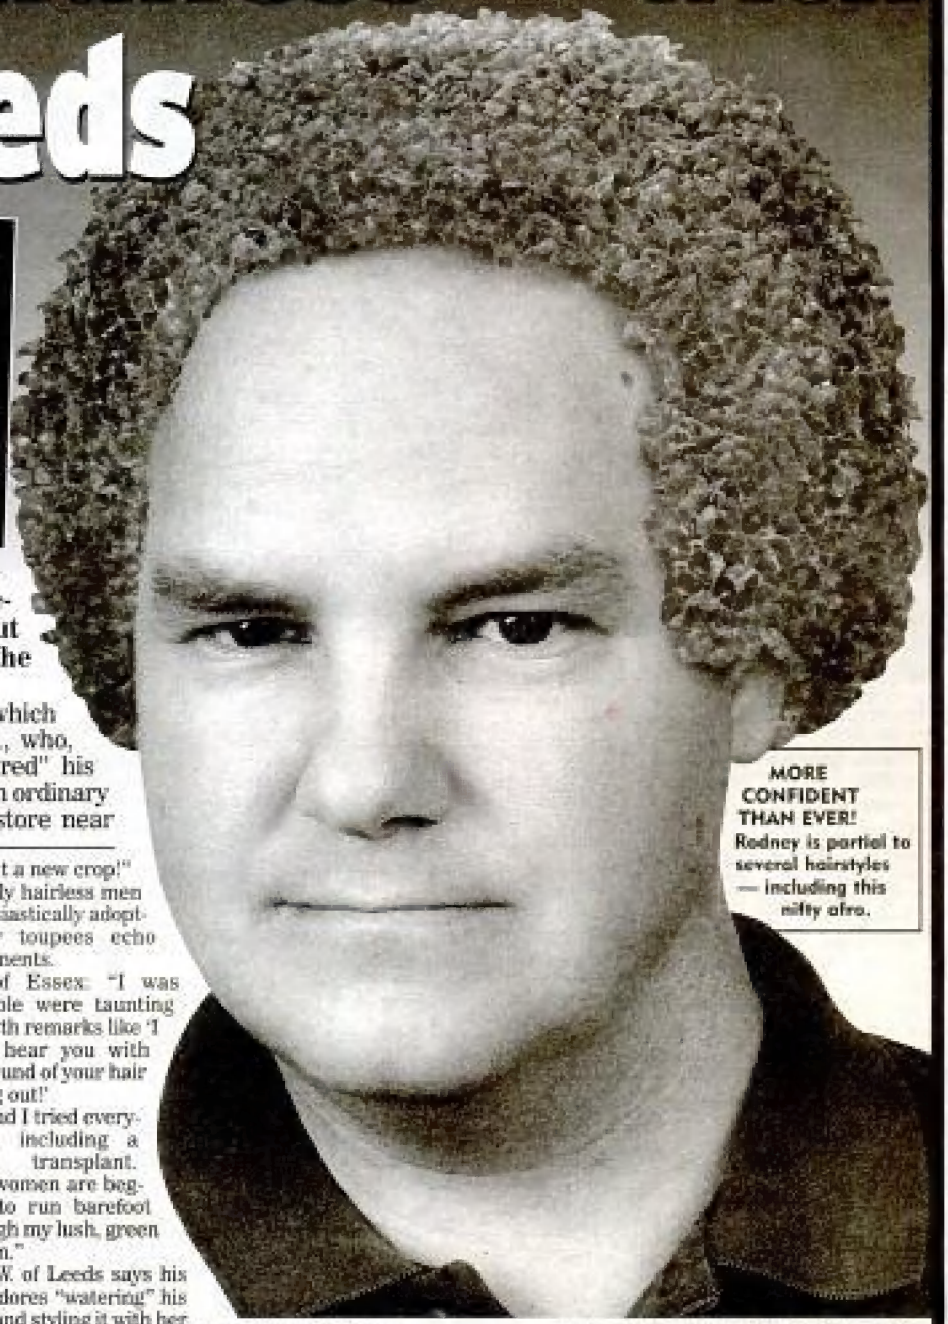
Says J.D. of Essex: "I was desperate. People were taunting me with remarks like 'I can't hear you with the sound of your hair falling out!'

"And I tried everything, including a failed transplant. Now women are begging to run barefoot through my lush, green garden."

M.W. of Leeds says his wife adores "watering" his head and styling it with her pedicure scissors. "She's great with the detail work," he remarks.

"She even cut the logo of my favorite soccer team — Leeds United — into the sides for a recent match and the traditional post-game riot was painless when enraged, drunken pulled my 'hair' out.

"I'm a gardener," says G.H. of Manchester, "so my foliage follicles are a natural out-growth for me. I even experiment with different fertilizers. I've found sheep dip works the best, but the smell is a bit off-putting."



MORE CONFIDENT THAN EVER! Rodney is partial to several hairstyles — including this nifty afro.

Elvis Presley® 25th Anniversary Tennessee State Quarter Tribute

Collectors scramble to get the new Elvis Presley 25th Anniversary Tennessee State Quarter Tribute.

"King of Rock & Roll"® Joins Presidents on U.S. Coinage

Memphis, TN – Elvis Presley fans are "all shook up" over the announcement that the King of Rock & Roll has become the first recording artist ever honored on official U.S. coinage. The Limited Edition coin, a colorized Tennessee Statehood Quarter from Elvis' homestate, commemorates the 25th Anniversary of Elvis' untimely passing in 1977. Reaction to the tribute has been nothing short of spectacular as droves of fans are scrambling to obtain the coin before any possible sellout occurs.

The 2002 Tennessee quarter is transformed by a revolutionary new process that actually fuses a brilliant color portrait of Elvis into the face of the coin. Each collectible tribute is completed with the Official 25th Anniversary logo from Graceland along with a reproduction of Elvis' unmistakable signature.

"Elvis Presley is perhaps the most collected icon of the 20th century," stated George Hubbard of the International Collectors Society, exclusive distributors of the coins. "This uniquely American collectible combines the legendary appeal of the "Entertainer of the Century" with the most collectible ever released and represents a true collector's treasure to be appreciated for generations to come... a must have for all Elvis fans."

The Tennessee Statehood quarters used in this unique commemorative are obtained directly from the U.S. Mint in brilliant uncirculated condition. After the intricate colorization process is applied, each coin is sealed inside a crystal-clear capsule to assure the dazzling luster will never tarnish.

The Elvis Presley 25th Anniversary Tennessee quarter arrives in an exquisite black collectibles. Each Limited Edition coin is backed by the International Collectors Society 100% Buy Back Guarantee and comes with an individually numbered Certificate of Authenticity. "It's a sensational way for fans young and old to establish a link with one of the most enduring icons of the 20th Century," added Hubbard.

Given the worldwide popularity of Elvis, fans should order their coins as soon as possible to avoid the disappointment of missing out on this unique collectible opportunity. your check or money order to ICS, 10045 Red Run Blvd., Suite 350WWWQP1, Owings Mills, Maryland 21117. Weekly World News

TRENTON, N.J. — The world's most unconventional dentist really packs a punch with his patients.

Dr. Jacob Keilstein makes oral care available to those who are unable to be anesthetized in a normal fashion by knocking them out with a right hook before drilling and filling.

"Some are allergic to novocaine and others are uncomfortable with needles because of religious beliefs. For the most part, people are just plain scared of needles," said Dr. Keilstein. "Boxing is a heckuva lot more fun than getting a shot."

An Olympic welterweight boxing alternate in 1984, Keilstein is known far and wide for his powerful right hook.

"I can usually knock 'em out with one punch, but occasionally, it takes a jab and an uppercut as well."

One patient, Vincent DiPlano, explains why he prefers to take a punch to a needle.

"Because I've always had nightmares about needles, I let my teeth get real bad. Dr. Keilstein takes

Once the procedure is complete, the dentist wakes his patients with smelling salts and sends them on their way.

"My eye was swollen shut for a few days, but my teeth look great," said a woman who asked that her identity be kept secret.

Dr. Keilstein adds: "My two passions are boxing and dentistry. This is a joyful union of the two."

But he admits that sometimes the round of anesthetic works too well.

"I once knocked out a patient's healthy tooth. Needless to say, she wasn't happy."

As every patient leaves his office, he has two bits of advice. "Floss regularly — and if somebody ever tries to STOP FEELING GUILTY — THE O.J. WAY!

By GEORGE SANFORD/Weekly World News

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. — You can stop feeling guilty and beat stress and get through tough times the same way O.J. Simpson does — by listening to hip-hop music!

The former football great says that the earth-rumbling urban vibes helped him cope emotionally with his 1995 murder trial and he's been a big fan ever since.

In particular, the songs of the late rapper Tupac Shakur helped O.J. deal with his anger and bitterness at the cruel things the media was saying about him.

"He was singing about having these crazy things happening around him and I could relate to that," O.J. revealed in a recent interview.

Experts agree that hip-hop music can serve as a "safety valve" that helps you deal with powerful emotions such as anger, sexual frustration and feelings of alienation.

HIP-HOP KING Sean "P Diddy" Combs.

Here are the 10 hip-hop artists whose music is rated the most therapeutic:

EMINEM — No one can help you release built-up rage like this blond-haired rebel. Relax with his songs like "Just don't give a &$%-#," which includes the memorable lyric, "See me on the street and duck, Cause you gun' get stuck, stoned and smoked."

SEAN "P Diddy" COMBS — No stranger to adversity, including a humiliating trial on gun charges and a public dumping by Jennifer Lopez, Puff Daddy always bounces back. And his never-say-die spirit is captured in uplifting songs such as "Can't Hold Me Down."

ICE T — Authority figures dumping on you or got a traffic ticket you didn't deserve? Let off steam with the music of this "gangsta" rapper and his infamous song "Cop Killer."

DA BRAT — If the rat race has you stressed, she lets you know it's okay to kick back, relax and not worry about material things, with numbers such as "Let's All Get High."

JA RULE — This pint-sized performer has brought the fun back to hip-hop music. No matter how blue you are, when you hear "Livin' it Up," you'll feel like you're living it up.

TUPAC SHAKUR — The late rapper, shot dead in 1996, reminds you you're not the only one who sometimes feels under the gun, with songs like "Me Against the World."

WILL SMITH — Before conquering Hollywood, the Fresh Prince was the uncrowned king of "feel good" rap. If you get the winter blues, just put on his song "Summertime."

SALT-N-PEPPA — Bedroom woes stressing you out? Low libido? These sexy sirens can get your juices flowing again with red-hot songs like their steamy "Shoop."

SIR MIX-A-LOT — Nothing beats stress like laughter and this rapper's clever way with words, as evidenced in his naughty "Baby Got Back," will put a smile on your face.

M.C. HAMMER — The ultimate upbeat hip-hop artist of all time. Put on his classic "Hammer Time," and you'll instantly feel your spirits rise. It's also great for working out!

O.J. has been through hell and back — but he hasn't let the tough times crush his spirit.

Gay doll faces lawsuit!

HANFORD, Calif. — A gay doll has upset United Parcel Service so much that UPS is threatening to sue the California firm that makes it.

UPS is in a tizzy because the anatomically correct and "grotesquely" well-endowed "Billy Parcel Service" doll sports a uniform similar to its own.

According to the doll manufacturer's Web site, BeProud.com, the company still uses UPS as its pre-

Bigamist weds Siamese

'I always feared he'd have an affair but I NEVER expected this!' — 1st wife Claire Bullock

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Claire Bullock was shocked to learn that her husband Ron was two-timing her — and three-timing her — when he married Siamese twin sisters!

"He's on the road so much, I always feared he'd have an affair," said a distraught Claire of her truck-driving husband. "But I never expected this."

Ron fell in love with Nikki and Karen Stafford when he first met the conjoined pair, who work together at a weighing station in Port Elizabeth. He soon proposed to each of them, and a week later, placed a wedding ring on Nikki's left hand — which is Karen's right.

Attached at the waist, the twins share one arm and several vital organs. So for them, sharing Ron as a husband is no big deal.

"Nikki loves Ron's romantic side," giggles Karen. "And he makes me laugh."

Nikki adds, "He likes to get between us and snuggle. Ron says he loves his 'Sweet Stafford sister sandwich.'"

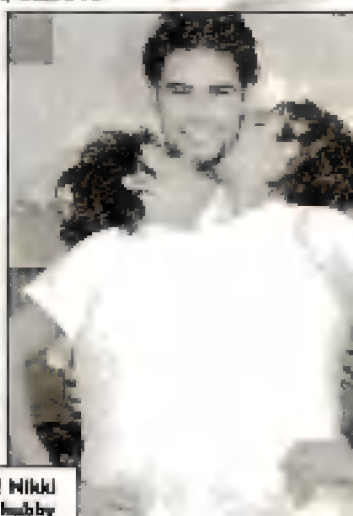
Nikki and Karen declare that "Big-Rig Ron," as they call him, needs two women to keep him happy. But not three. They insist that he leave his first wife and stay in Port Elizabeth.

FIRST WIFE Claire Bullock.

Back in Cape Town, Claire refuses to let that happen. She threatens to have her cheating husband arrested for bigamy if he doesn't divorce the twins. "I want Ron all to myself, or I want him to jail," she announces.

Ron is hoping to keep on truckin', never playing favorites. "Claire is wonderful," he explains, "but with Nikki and Karen, it's like love in stereo.

"Maybe somehow the four of us can work this out."



DOUBLE TROUBLE! Nikki and Karen kiss new hubby Ron.

Learn to love country music — no matter how uppity you are!

NASHVILLE — Just like jazz and rock 'n' roll, country music is a unique American art form. But despite its popularity, there are still some who scorn it or just "don't get it" due to its rural, "hillbilly" origins. If you're curious, there's a lot to appreciate in the sounds of the Grand Ol' Opry and Nashville.

1. Pay attention to the lyrics, there's a story there. Country

2. Realize that country music originated with the traditional Irish/English ballads of Appalachia and the Deep South where poorly educated settlers suffered the hardship of a bare-bones, hand-scrabble existence.

They translated the everyday concerns of their rural life — concerns such as alcoholism, infidelity, general misery and sometimes legends — immortals like Hank Williams, who lived hard and died young of a drug overdose.

Patsy Cline who drank and swore like a sailor and died in a plane wreck. Keith Whitley who drank himself to death and Elvis Presley, who synthesized gospel, rock, country and blues — and changed country music forever before he died on a toilet from a drug representative sample of classics: "My Wife Ran Off With My Best Friend, And I Sure Do Miss Him," "Pardon Me, I've Got Someone To Kill," "If Whiskey Were A Woman, I'd Be Married For Sure," "She Got The Ring And I Got The Finger," "If She Hadn't Been So Good Lookin' I Might Have Seen The Train," "Velcro Arms, Teflon Heart," and "She's Actin' Single

Oh my God — it's alive!

Talk about life imitating art! Confusion is what happens when a real live cyclist rools down the street in Toronto with a couple of painted "pals" behind him.

I'M GOING TO MARDI GRAS . . . BUT I'LL HATE EVERY MINUTE OF IT!

My America

BY ED ANGER

I'm madder than a tourist with an upside-down road map over what my wife Thelma Jean has done this time.

She threw three dollars in a raffle last week and won a trip to New Orleans for Mardi Gras. And she wants to drag me along with her.

That's the last thing I need.

I've heard plenty about this so-called Mardi Gras — and I can tell you it's not the place for me. My Uncle O.V. Potter went there four years ago, and he needed over two weeks in bed to recover from the whole crazy ordeal.

He said it's nothing but a 24-hour-a-day pagan party with puking people falling down in the streets drunk. Women run around nearly naked in every direction and some of the stupidest-sounding music this side of the Woodstock Festival blasts day and night.

Thelma Jean wants to be there on the last day, February 12. But Uncle O.V. says it'll be so crowded that people won't be able to move a muscle — and there will be pagan parades going on all day and all night.

He says he had to stand on one streaming street corner for three hours because there were so many parades that he couldn't cross the street without a catapult.

And when the parades finally ended he got caught up in such a mass of people stampeding across the street that he got carried three blocks from where he wanted to go.

He ended up having to catch a cab just to take him across the street. And he paid $14.80 for the three-minute joyride.

And the stupid parades have all kinds of floats decorated like dragons and pirate ships and some kind of drugged-out hippie party on wheels.

But what's the point of having a parade with floats and bands if there's not a big football game when it's over. Do you think they'd have a Rose Bowl Parade if there wasn't a Rose Bowl? An Orange Bowl Parade without an Orange Bowl? No, sir.

I guarantee you New Orleans is the only place in America that has a big long parade and doesn't have a game when it's over. That's like playing the National Anthem for a stadium full of people and then announcing that the baseball game has been cancelled.

It's bad enough that the floats just ride by — but then they throw things off them, mostly cheap beads no one wants or needs.

And here's the kicker: People get so drunk that they act like these beads were solid gold! They build scaffoldings and bring giant nets and then fight like wildcats to grab the beads that would cost them less than a nickel at some dime store.

Worst of all is that women take off their clothes to get some idiots to throw the beads their way. Get this — they pull their shirts and bras up over their heads on a crowded city street for two cents worth of beads.

And from what Uncle O.V. says, most of these women are ones you don't want to see taking their shirts off anywhere, much less in public.

But Thelma Jean is whining about wanting to go, so I told her I'll take her. But I'm betting that after one look at what's going on, she'll be begging me to bring her back home ASAP.

I won't tell her I told her so — but next year when it's time to pick a vacation spot, you can bet she'll be happy to see me buy another three-day pass to the local county fair.

New medical research confirms . . .

HICKEYS REALLY DO CAUSE CANCER

HICKEY OF DOOM! Just when you thought it was safe to cuddle and kiss, doctors find out a mere "love bite" can kill you!

BRUSSELS, Belgium — Officials at the European Center for the Treatment of Skin Diseases have issued a warning to teens and impassioned lovers: Hickeys really do cause cancer!

By MELISSA MORGAN
Weekly World News

Urban lore has warned of the hickey-cancer connection as long as frisky teens have hungrily sucked on each other's necks, but it was often ignored along with warnings of Pop Rocks and fizzy drinks causing human explosions.

But new research exposes the heinous hickey for what it really is: a deadly carcinogen.

Doctors at the center warn that anyone who "swaps spit" with a significant other may suffer the potentially fatal consequences.

In layman's terms, the saliva from the "sucker" mixed with the neck flesh of the "suckee" makes for a cancerous brew of tumors and lesions, the experts said.

Some are benign but a "significant number" of hickeys are malignant, according to the study.

Depending on the amount of sucking power an individual has, the nasal of the immediate.

"I thought I was doing the right thing when I let my girlfriend give me a hickey," said Bernard Heitz, a 13-year-old high school sophomore. "But I guess I was taking my health for granted.

"Now, I just hope this gross, purple lesion doesn't kill me."

Epidemiologists have asked the public to remain calm, but a heightened awareness needs to be observed.

"If you see anyone engaging in a PDA — a Public Display of Affection — and you feel it might lead to someone getting a hickey, you are urged to stop them immediately, or at least warn them of the potentially fatal consequences," said the center's Dr. Patrice Demieve.

"Just as many health-minded people make smokers feel like lepers, it's really a public service to halt this insidious epidemic."

At this time, there is no known cure for what newspapers are now calling "hickey cancer," but several protective devices are sanctioned.

These include: scratchy turtleneck sweaters, severe neck acne, profuse sweating and copious amounts of BAD cologne!

Naked geezer only gets sick when he wears clothes!

TENTULIA, India — A 90-year-old man hasn't worn any clothes for 80 years because he thinks he'll get sick if he does.

His mother forced him to discard his clothes during a bout with smallpox when he was 10 and he hasn't worn a stitch since then.

"Every time I covered my body with clothes the fever would shoot up. It was only when I discarded them things would return to normal. My nudity has protected me," the elderly bachelor said.

Church's communion wine stops burglar cold!

COPENHAGEN — A boozing burglar forgot about stealing a Swedish church's collection money after coming across its communion wine.

He drank three of the seven bottles and passed out in the church where he was found and arrested when the staff arrived the next morning.

He reportedly told police: "I drank quite a lot of it. I'm not sure what happened but I think I got tired after drinking the red wine and fell asleep."

How to wrestle a gator — & not get your butt kicked

ALLIGATORS are killing machines — but you CAN defeat them.

PORT EVERGLADES, Fla. — You never know when wrestling an alligator may come in handy.

Perhaps you've been drinking, want to settle a wager, impress a woman, or simply go one-on-one with a prehistoric beast to see what you're made of.

Are you a meal or a man? Here are some tips when that moment arrives.

1. It's important to approach the beast from the side, not the back because the tail can be a real bone breaker.

2. Next, get on the alligator's back pressure on its scaly body and neck. This will force its head and jaws down.

3. Press your right hand over the top of its fearsome snout and your left hand under its jaw. This will presumably keep its mouth closed.

4. If you are attacked, punch, scratch or gouge the eyes and nose. Use any weapon within reach, or your fist.

5. If its jaws are closed on something snout. Alligators often open their mouths when tapped lightly.

They may drop whatever it is they have taken hold of, and back off. If you're this lucky, roll off and turn on your afterburners.

Gator wrestling is extremely dangerous and should be left strictly to

Stinky demons terrorize Poland

WARSAW, Poland — If you can possibly avoid it, don't take a potty break in a public rest room anywhere in Warsaw.

That's because at least 12 people claim they've been attacked by foul-smelling demonic entities that emerge from the commodes!

Victims allege that the eerie creatures rise up in a cr-c-n vapor and then assume horrific, horned shapes.

Police say the bizarre attacks have left frazzled victims with bite marks, scratches, and in one case, a broken wrist.

Gals going ga-ga over George Bush

WASHINGTON — Sorry, Bill Clinton, your days of being America's Stud in Chief are over — and George W. Bush has taken your place!

A surprising new on-line poll shows that Bill Clinton is no longer the man American women fantasize most about.

He's been bumped from the top spot by his successor, with a whopping 68 percent of U.S. ladies saying they "sometimes or often" daydream about bedding President Bush.

Monkey-tail kids stun scientists!

LONDON — Has evolution switched gears — into reverse? Alarmed scientists are asking that question because since New Year's Day, 286 children have been born in Great Britain with long, monkey-like tails!

"We are not entirely sure what this means, but we are all in general agreement that it is not good news," said top London geneticist Dr. Nigel Nebonner.

Man plays Marilyn Manson's songs backward – and hears goody-goody lyrics!

LOS ANGELES — Mascara-wearing shock rocker Marilyn Manson promotes himself as a devout Satanist, but if you listen to his music backward, you'll hear upbeat, pro-Christian and pro-family messages — including familiar Bible verses!

By MIGUEL FIGUEROA
Weekly World News

That's the startling claim of a maverick audio expert who has spent more than 700 hours analyzing the warblings of the controversial Devil-worshiping rocker.

"On the surface, Mr. Manson's lyrics in songs such as Irresponsible Hate Anthem appear to be disturbingly antisocial.

"But whether by accident or design, his CDs are riddled with subliminal messages that undercut his theme," declares audio engineer Raoul Montoya of Mexico City, one of the world's top experts in the little-understood recording technique, known as backward masking.

According to the expert, at least 56 hidden goody-two-shoes messages are buried in Manson's music, including:

- "I am a good boy."
- "Save the whales."
- "I want a hug."
- "A real man is a righteous man."
- "I love my mother."
- "Thou shalt not steal."
- "Blessed are the meek."
- "Don't be a fool, stay in school."

AUDIO expert Raoul Montoya.

"These messages only emerge when you play the songs backward at 75 revolutions per minute," explains Montoya, who first revealed his findings in the December issue of the Spanish language magazine, Popular Radio Digest.

In the past, experts have used the same approach to unearth sinister Satanic messages planted in seemingly innocuous recordings by mainstream pop artists.

"Now we know that it can

Dear Dotti

AMERICA'S MOST OUTSPOKEN ADVICE COLUMNIST

Cheapskate Dad refuses to buy me a new Harley!

Dear Dotti: I just got my driver's license and I'm the only kid I know who's still riding a bike. I want a Harley-Davidson motorcycle real bad, but dad is so cheap he says he won't buy one for me. He told me to get a job and buy one myself! Do you know how much I'd have to make? Almost $20,000 and that's without a lot of extras I deserve. He reads you faithfully, Dotti. He'll listen if you tell him to buy me one. — Harley Boy in South Bend

Dear Harley Boy: I have no intention of telling your father anything but you can show him this letter. Dear Sir, Your son is a spoiled, ungrateful brat who doesn't even deserve roller skates, much less a new Harley like Dotti's Sportster. I applaud you for urging him to earn his own wheels, but you should go even farther. Yank his license immediately and don't give it back until he gets down on his hands and knees and says, "I'M SORRY!"

I'm so depressed I could eat two pies and kill myself!

Dear Dotti: My life is a mess. I'm overweight and have been all my life. I was fired from my last job because I was too heavy to keep working. Needless to say, I don't have a love life — my only comfort is food. I'm so down, I could eat two pies, a gallon of ice cream and just die. Can you help? — Heartbroken and Hefty in New Brunswick

Dear Heartbroken: No.

My son hasn't left his bedroom since 1985!

Dear Dotti: My son is almost 35 years old and hasn't come out of his bedroom since January 1985 — 17 years ago when he was 18 years old! I can't begin to describe the smell, much less the embarrassment I feel. Even when his father passed away in 1987 he wouldn't emerge. All I do is place his meals on a plate in front of his door, knock once and leave. He leaves the empty plates outside when he's done and then locks the door. We haven't even spoken since 1981! — Worried Mom in Port Arthur

Dear Worried: I get a lot of moronic letters but this one takes the cake. For Pete's sake, woman, stop feeding the bum — and I assure you, he WILL come out!

Dumb sister shakes her booty at all my friends!

Dear Dotti: My younger sister has a bottom that puts J. Lo to shame! Whoever invented the term "booty" must have had her in mind. Trouble is, she shakes that thing whenever my male friends are around. It's like watching moths flock to a 100-watt light. My butt isn't bad, but when she's around it's no contest! Any suggestions? — Second Best Butt in Columbia

Dear Second Best: The next time she shakes her booty in front of your friends, get smart — and show her the business end of a Lawn Dart!

Super-sexy wife charges me $50 for her loving!

Dear Dotti: My wife is hot and she does everything in her power to keep me turned on all the time. The problem is, she gets me all worked up — and then refuses to give me any lovin' until I fork over 50 bucks. At this rate I'll be bankrupt within five months. Help! — Dave in Aimes

Dear Dave: Your wife is obviously suffering from a bad case of low self-esteem and needs to see a psychiatrist right away. If she thought highly of herself, she wouldn't gouge you for $50 every time you wanted sex — she'd be asking $200 at least!

You're the Einstein of advice columnists!

Dear Dotti: I read your column every week and I must say, you are a genius. I'm sure your advice seems abrupt and even crude to some people, but having an IQ of 158 myself, I understand how you shock and stun your readers on purpose, hoping to make them stop — and think! Keep up the good work, lady. The world is a better place because you're in it! — Judy in Keasbey

Dear Judy: I've said it before and I'll say it again: You don't have to be a genius to appreciate me and my column — but it helps!

Your Momma shoulda beat the tar out of you, Dotti!

Dear Dotti: You, Dotti, are a blooming idiot. People write to you for advice and instead of helping them, you call them names and do everything in your power to humiliate them. If I was your mother I would beat your butt black and blue! — Shocked in Trenton

Dear Shocked: If you were my mother I'd commit suicide. Since you aren't, why don't you jet on out

CONFIDENTIALS

Dear Puzzled in Gary: I don't care what your husband says — no man keeps a condom in his wallet "in case a friend needs it"!

Dear Wondering in Poyen: It's really none of your business, buddy, but if you really must know, black lace!

Dear Worried in Duncan: I seriously doubt you'll get AIDS from a woman who knows somebody who has a gay friend.

Dear Comedian in Ash Fork: A "big Hollywood producer" MIGHT discover you in a rube town like Ash Fork — but I doubt it!

Dear Revolted Gal in Chicot: If you really want to hold on to your boyfriend, close your eyes — and pretend it's candy.

Dear Furious in Oakland: I don't have anything against fat people. In fact — one of my best friends is that way!

Dear Touched in Benson: I like to be touched, too — but not by every damn man in town!

Dear Angry in Fort Pierre: I didn't mean to imply that you were a "moron" — that's why I called you a bonehead!

Dear Curious in Lineville: If I've told you pinheads once, I've told you a thousand times — honesty may or may not be the best policy. It depends on the circumstances!

THIS CURSED NICKEL MAY BE IN YOUR POCKET!

THOMAS JEFFERSON wears a scowl on the face of the cursed nickel, as shown in this FBI photo.

Frantic feds want evil coin back before it kills again!

By BRETT ANNISTON / Weekly World News

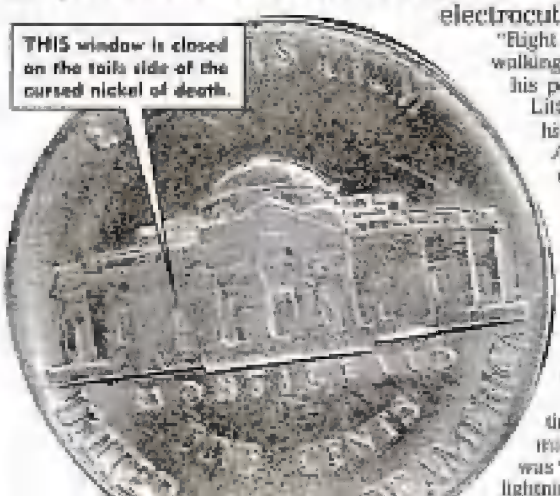
WASHINGTON — Frantic Treasury Department officials are reportedly trying to track down a "cursed" nickel and take it out of circulation — before it kills again!

Experts say that since the unlucky five-cent coin was minted in 1978, it has been linked to at least 395 deaths in car crashes, plane wrecks, electrocutions and other mishaps.



THIS window is closed on the tails side of the cursed nickel of death.

"Right now, some unwitting American is walking around with that deadly nickel in his pocket," warns coin expert Mason Littleburg, who broke the odd story in his newsletter Coin Collection Advisor. "Until it's found and melted down, no one is safe."

Here are just a few of the many tragedies probers have linked to the Nickel of Doom:

● An Illinois coroner "borrowed" the nickel from the pocket of a train-wreck victim — and died himself the next day when he fell off his riding lawn mower and it ran him over.

● A woman who put the distinctive coin in a Las Vegas slot machine won $500 and thought it was "lucky" — until she was struck by lightning on the way out of the casino.

● A Texas man who found the nickel in the gutter was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Florida man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Georgia man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Kansas man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Nebraska man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Wyoming man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Montana man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Nevada man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Utah man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Colorado man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A New Mexico man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● An Arizona man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A California man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● An Oregon man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

● A Washington man who found the nickel in the grass was killed by a falling piano as he bent down to pick it up.

Amazon headhunters flooding U.S. cities!

SHRUNKEN heads are popping up everywhere!

By MIKE FOSTER
Weekly World News

WASHINGTON — Don't lose your head over this, but your new neighbor may be an Amazon headhunter! People from the jungles of South America are the nation's fastest growing immigrant population, government experts say.

"Officials are keeping pretty quiet about the phenomenon because they're aware of the preconceived notions many Americans have about these folks, but the number of Amazon headhunters entering the U.S. has swollen to about 23,000 a year," reveals a source at the U.S. Department of Immigration and Naturalization.

"Their natural habitat, the Amazon rain forest, has been largely destroyed by overdevelopment and now they're looking for a better life in the United States."

Surprisingly, the newcomers are head and shoulders over most other legal aliens.

"They have a great work ethic — they're used to spending their days hunting in rough terrain while fending off army ants," said the source.

"They're not looking for handouts."

The headhunters prefer to settle in rural areas, where they pick fruit and work on farms, but many now live in major cities such as Los Angeles, New York, Denver and Detroit.

"The same skill, craftsmanship and attention to detail they use to create those marvelous shrunken heads, they now bring to U.S. factories," said the INS source.

The headhunters are also helping to eliminate many urban problems.

"They love to relax by using poison darts to take down small animals — so many metropolitan areas are seeing their rat population drop dramatically," said the source.

"And while they've been discouraged from taking heads, there's no question that some have been carrying out the traditional practice on homeless people.

"The problem of homelessness in some cities has been almost entirely eliminated."

But, as with previous waves of immigrants, cultural differences do rear their head.

"One headhunter living in suburban Philly collected the heads of four of his neighbors and then proudly displayed them on his entertainment center," admits the source.

"But by and large, headhunters make great neighbors — and great Americans."

CRICKETS CAN MAKE YOU RICH & FAMOUS!

By JUSTIN MITCHELL / Weekly World News

PHOENIX — The sale of crickets to bait shops and pet stores that hawk them as food for reptiles, birds and snakes is a $60 billion industry that, believe it or not, can make YOU rich and famous!

All you have to do is follow a few tried and true "breeder's and marketer's tips" that will pay you handsomely AND provide plenty of opportunities to talk about your unusual business on radio and television talk shows and newscasts.

That's the word from an exciting new Internet site for shoestring entrepreneurs that advises you to:

1. Purchase — or if you live in the southern U.S. catch — 24 male and female crickets each.

2. Place an old aquarium in a warm place and cover the top with screen wire. Place the bottom portion of the cage.

3. Pipe in soft mood or classical music. Studies show that crickets respond favorably.

4. Carefully cut an "X" in the lid of a yogurt container, and feed a piece of soft, cheesecloth through the "X" to act as a wick for water from plastic tub filled with 2 to 3 inches of damp, moist soft white beach sand in the box.

The willing female will lay her eggs in the sand.

6. Gently place a cup of fresh dog, cat or rabbit food, or a few crisp, juicy vegetables in the aquarium.

Feed the crickets only what

7. As the crickets breed, start contacting pet shops and arrange to sell your crickets regularly.

Tout your crickets as being bigger and juicier than the competition's — and "brand" them with a clever, memorable name, such as

8. Call radio talk shows and boast about your success — even if you have yet to achieve it.

While you're at it, needle local TV stations to air a feature story on your business.

Don't be shy — those reporters and producers have airtime to fill and will be more than happy to tell your story.

The publicity will make you locally famous, at least,

Underdone chicken sparks prison riot

PELHAM, Georgia — A tough convict's complaint that his chicken dinner was too rare sparked a two-hour prison riot.

Riot police were called in to quell the trouble and restore order at Autry State Prison after the inmate began complaining loudly about the undercooked food.

The prison guards locked down the entire jail until reinforcements arrived to restore order after two hours of destruction.

"You'd be surprised how things we might consider insignificant on the outside can be a real problem in a prison setting," said a prison spokesman.

"These are tough people. They're not in prison for making rational and evenhanded decisions."

College team's embarrassing typo

MACOMB, Ill. — It took an alert fan's phone call to a TV station, but members of the Western Illinois University basketball team are finally playing in jerseys that spell "Illinois" correctly.

They had played several games with "Illinios" emblazoned across their tops and had even appeared in the media guide in misspelled jerseys.

The team finally learned of the glitch when a television announcer passed along a tipster's call.

Nude Burglars terrorize town

SADAR, Bangladesh — A gang of naked, armed and reportedly well-oiled robbers have been terrorizing a village here.

Stunned townsfolk ran screaming through the streets during one brazen daylight raid, leaving their homes and stores to be pillaged by the naked crooks.

"We were worried for the lives of our women and even considered overpowering the bandits," said a shopkeeper.

AMERICA'S SEXIEST PSYCHIC

Let Serena help you! Write: Serena, Weekly World News, 3401 NW Broken Sound Blvd., Boca Raton, Fla. 33487. We'll forward your letters to her. Don't send money. Serena's advice is free.

Egyptian curse is messing up my life

Dear Serena: My grandmother recently died and left me an ancient Egyptian amulet that her grandfather, an archeologist, had given her. But since I've had it, my life has been nothing but trouble.

My husband left me, I lost my job and my cat has developed a rare skin disease that requires expensive treatment. I feel like I'm under a curse! — Cursed in San Jose

Dear Cursed: The amulet is indeed the source of your troubles. It feels displaced since leaving your grandmother's care and you need to make it feel "welcome." Rub it carefully with sea salt and thyme wrapped in a pure linen cloth, light two blue candles and chant: "Amulet, amulet we've just met. You'll never be alone — welcome home." Within two weeks you'll see positive changes.

Dear Serena: I think my pet spaniel is possessed! I am recently divorced, but whenever a new date comes to pick me up, he growls and foams at the mouth! Otherwise he acts as friendly and frisky as usual but it's not the best way to meet new men. Should I get rid of my dog? — All Alone in Washington

Dear All Alone: Your dog is far smarter than you give him credit for. He's not possessed, just possessive! Animals can sense vibrations that humans never realize and yours is telling you that these guys you keep bringing home are losers. Listen — and learn from him!

Dear Serena: I'm torn between two lovers: My first cousin and my ex-husband! Friends say I should forget both of them, because loving a first cousin is "incest" and my ex-husband gets real mean when he drinks. But I feel like no one else understands me like they do! — Heartbroken in Auburn

Dear Heartbroken: I see nothing but more trouble — and possible injury — if you continue to see these men! I also see a "secret admirer" in your workplace who would give anything to be with you. You know who he is. Don't take him for granted, or all will be lost!

Dear Serena: My company just transferred me to a new city and I am living in a condo that "feels" all wrong to me. Lights go on and off by themselves, and sometimes I hear voices and footsteps in the living room when I'm home alone. Should I move? The company only pays for one relocation. — Not Alone in Springfield

Dear Not Alone: Your condo is haunted and you should either have the furniture rearranged in a harmonic feng shui alignment or move. A murder occurred there that the seller never told you about and the spirits are restless!

Dear Serena: I don't know which way to turn. Because my child has been sick so much this year, I've had to take a lot of time off work. They haven't fired me, but they do dock my pay and then I end up without enough money to pay rent let alone pay for a doctor. Please, please, please, cast a spell to heal my child and help me make ends meet. — Desperate in Flagstaff

Dear Desperate: I've cast a general healing spell, but there are two things you must do also. Next Saturday, play the numbers in your address plus your age. Then chant: "Winter, spring, summer, fall. Dance for money, dance for all" three times while burning a white candle. As to your child, he has a type of asthma that is controllable with medication. Look up a woman doctor with the initials K. A. She'll be very helpful.

THIS WEEK'S SIX LUCKIEST LOTTO NUMBERS

Weekly World News has purchased exclusive rights to the world's most powerful computer — and we use it to pick the six luckiest lottery numbers every week!

The Swiss-built computer, called Bright Green, has the ability to calculate which lottery numbers are most likely to come up each week, based on previous performance and established tendencies. The numbers are good for the week Weekly World News is on the newsstand.

The computer scans all numbers selected in lotteries across America over the past year to provide a statistical base for predicting future results. More value is given to the most recently selected numbers.

Using all available data, the computer picks the luckiest numbers

MODEL T MASSACRE

1 dead, 1 injured in road rage hissy fit at antique car show!

VINTAGE automobiles are well worth fighting for.

By JUSTIN MITCHELL
Weekly World News

SYDNEY, Australia — An 81-year-old geezer who claims he was "cut off" in traffic shot an 85-year-old man to death with a flintlock pistol after the pair collided in antique cars while attending a vintage auto show, say cops.

Elvin Hosia died after a flailing struggle with Norv Trundelson who ended the dispute by shooting Hosia in the heart with a 200-year old .80 caliber Henry Nock flintlock "man stopper" pistol.

"He had it coming!" Trundelson shouted to law enforcement officers and startled onlookers at the Sydney Antique & Classic Auto Show, Farm Machinery and Swap Meet.

"He cut me off at 12 miles per hour with his reckless driving!"

AUSSIE police sergeant Kevin Gibson.

Trundelson was arrested and charged with second degree murder and failure to properly control his vehicle in an incident authorities are calling "antique road rage."

Police Sergeant Kevin Gibson said he had never seen anything like it. "Usually it's two macho 20 year-old punks with Glocks in muscle cars or souped up SUVs, but this beats anything I've encountered. That old gun must weigh 12 pounds. I'm surprised the old guy could even lift it, much less pull the trigger."

According to reports, Hosia, driving a 1914, four cylinder Saxon Roadster appeared to cut in front of Trundelson's 1908, one cylinder, Waltham-Orient Buckboard without signaling and thumbed his nose at the enraged Trundelson who was forced into the right lane where the two ancient autos locked newly restored bumpers near the entrance of the auto show pavilion. They skidded and collided with the world's only operational 1912 Hackney Auto Plow, according to stunned auto show organizers.

The pair then took approximately four minutes to slowly extract themselves from their vintage vehicles before beginning to shove each other and throw wild, slow punches while exchanging insults.

The altercation ended tragically when Trundelson pulled the large antique pistol from his vest, shoved it in Hosia's chest and fired.

"It was almost funny until that happened," said Ethan Eldridge, 41. "Two old coots going at it in slow motion, then 'POW!' You couldn't see a thing until the smoke cleared."

A witness who requested anonymity and identified himself as an "antique arms aficionado" and friend of Trundelson identified the vintage pistol and said that the accused killer had been "packing heat for self-protection" for almost 60 years. "He's something of a hothead, but it's a good thing he didn't have his 1859 Potsdam .69 smooth-bore musket. That could've caused some real collateral damage."

"It's tragic and I hope this doesn't negatively impact the image of the antique auto buff," said show organizer, Sydney Godsman, 58.

"Road rage has no place in our family oriented organization. But almost everyone knows that a Waltham-Orient Buckboard is no match for a Saxon Roadster! I hate to say it, but Hosia was almost asking for it."

Fortune-teller's sexy secret will blow you away

NAGOYA, Japan — A Japanese soothsayer claims to be able to tell a man's fortune by having sex with him.

The woman, known only as Kaho, claims to be able to tell a man his future by performing oral sex on him.

She joins the ranks of bizarre Japanese fortune-tellers, including one who divines the future by breast-reading and another who give predictions based on mobile phones.

Kaho claims to have given lip service to the fortunes of about 1,000 men in the past year.

Mama lion adopts baby antelope!

NAIROBI, Kenya — A friendship between a Kenyan lioness and an antelope calf is baffling wildlife experts.

The lioness would usually eat the helpless calf, but the animals have been seen walking and resting together with the intimacy of a mother and child.

A worker at the wildlife refuge said: "It's incredible. This is either an extraordinary case of maternal instinct or simply the eighth wonder of the world."

Rangers have ruled out separating the pair, preferring to let nature take its course.

GIMME SOME TAIL!

Tail-bumping at 1,400 mph is a spectacular sight — but as the old saying goes, DO NOT try it at home! Precision flying is better left to pros, like the U.S. Air Force's famed Thunderbirds demonstration team, two members of which are shown here in an exhibition over Fairchild Air Force base just west of Spokane, Wash. For the record, the planes are F-16 Fighting Falcons. And yes, they really do fly in excess of 1,400 mph!

New weapon in war on terror: Military-grade tapeworms!

WASHINGTON — Saddam Hussein and other leaders who sponsor terrorism better watch their butts. The U.S. Department of Defense has reportedly been developing a terrifying new bioweapon — killer tapeworms!

The repulsive creatures were created using gene-splicing technology, according to Pentagon sources.

Unlike ordinary tapeworms that reside in the digestive tract doing little harm, the ultra aggressive "military-grade" tapeworms eat away the victim's organs until the person is just a hollow shell.

"These weapons can be used against targeted individuals such as an enemy head of state," a Pentagon source said. "The eggs can be delivered in food or drink."

FOR MEN ONLY!

LYING TO WOMEN IS O.K., SAY EXPERTS

. . . because gals can't handle the truth!

By MELISSA MORGAN, Weekly World News

DUBLIN, Ireland — Men, it's O.K. to lie to your wife or girlfriend, because she needs it! Since the beginning of time, men have often gone against their better instincts and told women the truth, only to regret it. But the latest results from an intensive study of human interaction show that women can't handle the truth!

Dr. Malcolm Guinness of the Institute of Human Studies reports that when women ask hard questions and men respond with the truth, the gal's heart and health suffer!

"We've all been in a situation where our woman has asked us a delicate question and we have tried to temper our honesty with kindness," said Dr. Guinness.

"But women are wily creatures and they will trap you with your own words, making it sound like you said something horrible and hurtful to her."

The doctor's research shows when a woman is in a relationship with an honest guy, she often gets depressed when he tells her the bald truth, thereby suppressing her immune system and making her more susceptible to viruses and other airborne germs.

"The truth is, if you want to keep your wife or girlfriend healthy, lie to her," said Dr. Guinness.

"One woman in our study actually went into a coma when her husband told her truthfully that he'd rather have a drunk chimpanzee give him a root canal than spend time with her and her mother on Sundays."

TOP LIES MEN TELL WOMEN

Dr. Guinness has compiled a list of the Top 10 Lies that men tell women:

10. You're the most beautiful woman in the world.
9. Leftovers again? Great!
8. I never fantasize about your sister/best friend.
7. You're not fat.
6. I will respect you in the morning.
5. We need to spend more time talking.
4. Your mother is the wisest woman I know.
3. Those flannel PJs are a real turn-on.
2. Your butt is adorable.
1. I'll come straight home after work, dear.

Rave review!

This is what happens when 250,000 drug-mashed "ravers" march through the streets to the tune of techno, rave and acid-house music in celebration of the latest in counterculture lifestyles. Confused? Don't be. As one raver put it: "Ya gotta be here!" The bizarre spectacle unfolded in Zurich, Switzerland — the financial capital of the world!

Mounties finally get their man — 70 years late!

EDMONTON, Canada — Canada's longest-sought fugitive has died at the ripe old age of 103 — while still on the run!

William James Marsterson had been on the lam on auto theft charges since 1931, when he fled Canadian Mounties, known for slogan "they always get their man" — hunted in vain for Marsterson. But they never caught him and after 70 years as a fugitive, the SCIATICA RELIEF!

If you want to get relief from Sciatica and have suffered symptoms such as: pain in the buttocks, pain in lower back, pain shooting down one or both legs, or numbness in your legs or feet, you should get a copy of the new book, The Sciatica Relief Handbook. The book covers the latest natural, alternative and medical solutions to sciatica. The book reveals how virtually everyone can put an end to sciatica symptoms thanks to new understandings of this problem.

Over 163 million people experience sciatica and lower back discomfort. Many people are needlessly suffering because they are not aware of new ways to put an end to this problem. This book is of vital importance to every person suffering from sciatica or lower back pain.

The book tells you what causes sciatica symptoms, how to alleviate the symptoms and how to prevent and protect yourself from future sciatica and lower back problems. You'll learn about new natural remedies and treatments and find out how and why they work—without unnecessary drugs or surgery.

You'll discover: » how a simple exercise brings dramatic relief » specific pressure points that soothe the sciatic nerve » vital tips to prevent possible serious problems » what you must know about the mineral potassium » how certain foods promote healing of the sciatic nerve.

The book explains all about the sciatic nerve, the various ways it may become inflamed and cause pain, how to find out specifically what causes distress (you may be surprised), and what to do and what not to do to prevent flare-ups.

Get all the facts. Put an end to sciatica and lower back pain once and for all. The Sciatica Relief Handbook is available for only $12.95 (plus $3 P&H). To order, send your name and address with check or money order to United Research Publishers, Dept. WK-17; 132 North El Camino Real #T; Encinitas CA 92024. For VISA or MasterCard, send card number and expiration date. You may return the book within 90 days for a refund if not completely satisfied.

RINGING in the EARS

If you suffer any of the following symptoms: ringing in the ears, or buzzing, hissing, whistling, roaring or other sounds, you may be suffering from tinnitus. A new book has just been released that reveals how to find relief from this condition through new all-natural means.

This new book—The Tinnitus Handbook—reveals what causes unwanted noises and how to stop them safely and naturally—even if you have suffered from tinnitus for years.

You'll discover the latest natural and alternative ways to stop unwanted ear noises and you'll learn why these all-natural methods have worked for so many people—even when other treatments failed to bring relief.

The book shows you precise trigger points that help eliminate ear noises, how a trace mineral deficiency can cause tinnitus, a simple breathing technique that "cleanses" the inner ear to quiet unwanted noises, how gently massaging a specific part of your neck often brings relief. You'll discover how certain dietary changes can bring dramatic results, and how one noted doctor treats tinnitus with two particular nutrients.

The book gives you a full explanation of tinnitus—in plain English—and why millions of people suffer from this condition.

Many people are suffering from tinnitus symptoms because they do not know of the new all-natural treatments revealed in this book.

Get all the facts. Order The Tinnitus Handbook now on a trial basis. The book is only $12.95 (plus $3 P&H). To order, send your name and address with check or money order to: United Research Publishers Dept. WB-18; 132 North El Camino Real #T; Encinitas CA 92024. For VISA or MasterCard, send card number and expiration date. You may return the book within 90 days for a refund if not satisfied.

KEEP GOUT AWAY THE NATURAL WAY!

If you suffer from Gout and experience episodes of severe swelling and throbbing pain in one or more joints of the hand, wrist, elbow, knee, ankle, foot and especially your big toe, you should get a copy of a new handbook which reveals how to get fast relief.

The Gout Relief Handbook contains the latest up-to-date information on Gout—what causes symptoms, how to best alleviate them with all-natural means, and how to protect yourself from Gout flare-ups.

The handbook covers standard medical treatments you should know about—and you'll also discover there are simple, all-natural ways to avoid and treat painful Gout symptoms.

You'll discover the importance of water and specific kinds of fruit juices. You'll learn how just one simple mineral and a common vitamin will help you. The handbook tells you what daily doses of specific nutrients to take, including one natural oil that prevents Gout attacks.

Simply by following the all-natural tips in this handbook you can quickly stop Gout attacks from occurring.

This handbook is available for only $12.95 (plus $3 P&H). To order, send your name and address with check or money order to: United Research Publishers Dept. WG-16; 132 North El Camino Real #T; Encinitas CA 92024. For VISA or MasterCard, send card number and expiration date. You may

BAT BOY'S NEW MISSION: CLEAN UP ARGENTINA

By VINCENZO SARDI/Weekly World News

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — After helping U.S. Marines win the war on terrorism in Afghanistan, the mysterious Bat Boy is reportedly waving adias to that newly liberated land and saying "Buenos dios" to another strife-torn nation — Argentina!

President George W. Bush has personally dispatched the pint-sized, half-bat, half-human mutant to restore order to the troubled South American country, which has seen five Presidents in two weeks, been plagued with deadly food riots and been spiraling hopelessly into deepening economic chaos, White House sources say.

"The president was very impressed with how Bat Boy handled himself in Afghanistan," a reliable administration source told Weekly World News.

"The little guy not only helped to bring down the Taliban regime by bravely going behind enemy lines to pester their leaders in their beds, he also became a symbol of hope and freedom to the Afghan people. They saw him as a kind of Zorro-like figure — just the kind of symbol Latin Americans have always responded to.

"The president said, 'If anyone can tame Argentina, it's Bat Boy!'"

Argentina has been rocked by its worst economic crisis in decades. The country is virtually bankrupt and recently defaulted on its massive $132 billion debt. At least 27 people have been killed in bloody food riots and this winter, one leader after another has been ousted by violent street protests, as public anger mounts.

In a desperate move, the latest president, Eduardo Duhalde severed the link that long pegged the value of the country's currency to the U.S. dollar, causing the worth of the Argentine peso to plummet. Worried experts warn that risky

The turmoil in Argentina has already begun to affect neighboring countries such as Brazil, where imports of Argentine wheat have ground to a halt. And President Bush is fearful it could destabilize the world's economy — deepening the recession.

"President Bush wants to do everything he can to help," said the White House source. "That's why he's sending Bat Boy on this mission of mercy.

"Bat Boy's job will be to do whatever it takes to help fix the mess over there."

The patriotic imp, who was found in a West Virginia cave in 1992, is raring to go.

"He's already packed his som-

Weekly World News

WASHINGTON — Average Americans wear Haz-Mat suits to work, school and church . . . The No. 1 vacation spot is Antarctica . . . And "Bobbitting" of husbands is a national sport!

Those are just some of the startling ways in which our lives will be different in 2006, a top futurist predicts.

"Four years from now, the world will be a very different place indeed," says John Grenold III, director of the Grenold Institute for Future Studies, a Washington think tank.

Grenold, who accurately forecasted events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall and the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait, uses analysis of current trends to peek into the future.

John Grenold

Here's what the egghead says your life will be like in 2006:

● After a rash of bioterrorist attacks, hazardous-material suits become the standard uniform for average Americans, with businessmen, basketball players and even cheerleaders at high-school football games donning the head-to-toe protective outfits.

● Universal gun ownership is made mandatory after Congress rules that it's the duty of every U.S. citizen to be armed and ready to take action at a moment's notice. Kindergarten teachers, preachers and supermodels strutting on catwalks all pack heat.

● Cloning is used not for reproduction but the generation of new body parts.

● "Losing your hand in an accident or even getting the Lorena Bobbitt treatment will no longer be a cause for alarm," says Grenold. "Bobbitting' will become a common practical joke."

● Joining in a campaign to reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil, millions of patriotic Americans return to riding horses, mules and donkeys for transportation.

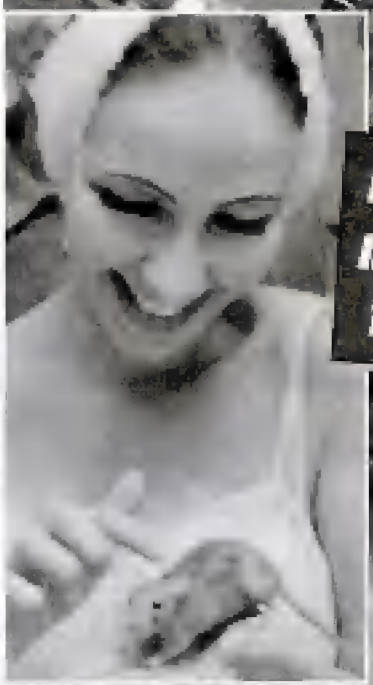
● Antarctica emerges as the favorite getaway spot of well-to-do Americans after global warming melts away 94 percent of the ice, turning it into a tropical paradise.

● Teens drive their elders crazy by boogeying to a hip new sound — played on bagpipes.

● In a trend that starts in Hollywood, rats become wildly popular as pets.

● Body modification reaches gruesome new heights as young folks lop off hands and feet to achieve the chic new "pirate look."

● The Hopi Indian philosophy of non-competitiveness wins so many adherents across the land that the rules of poo golf and hockey are changed to eliminate winners and losers — and now football is played by 22 players who just stand around and talk.



Rats become most popular family pets!

Cars are out — horses and mules are in!

Taking your dog's temperature CAN be fun

NEW YORK — Taking your dog's temperature is no picnic for your pet but it can be fun, or at least tolerable, for you with tips from a top vet:

By VICKIE YORK/Weekly World News

1. Use a rectal thermometer designed for dogs — NOT the same one you use for family members. You can buy one at any pet store.

2. Sterilize the thermometer by dipping it in alcohol.

3. After allowing it to dry, apply petroleum jelly to the tip.

4. Get Rover to lie on his side and gently hold him down.

5. Shake thermometer until it reads below 100 degrees F.

6. Insert the thermometer one inch for a small dog and up to three-quarters of the way for a large breed. Wait three minutes, holding the thermometer firmly in place.

7. Don't be surprised if Rowser responds by scratching or even biting. To calm him down, gently pet him and talk in a soothing tone.

8. Take the thermometer out and read it. A dog's normal body temperature is 101 to 102 degrees.

9. Wipe and rinse the thermometer then sterilize it by dipping it in alcohol.

10. Reward your pet with a treat such as a dog biscuit. That way he's more likely to sit still for the procedure the next time.

FIDO only wishes he could have his temperature taken by mouth. Unfortunately, it's got to be done from the other end!

Burglars find mummy, not money

PRINCE RUPERT, Canada — Two burglars stumbled across the mummified body of an 80-year-old man after breaking into his home. A police spokesman said: "The thieves had a guilty conscience, so they reported the death to us.

"We suspect that he has been deceased for a minimum of nine months." Canadian cops are trying to contact the mummy's relatives in Ontario and Europe.

GIANT Horoscope

FOR THE WEEK OF FEBRUARY 4

BY SERENA SABAK Psychic Astrologer to the Rich & Famous

ARIES

Mar. 21 – Apr. 19

Your luck is likely to improve dramatically this week and you'd be wise to take advantage of it by risking it all.

Your ability to make quick decisions could prove to be an important asset when a friend shows up unexpectedly and needs tea and sympathy. Just don't throw pearls before swine. They may choke on them and leave you with the bill.

TAURUS

Apr. 20 – May 20

An unusual opportunity may come your way this week and you should be ready to act fast. Get advice from strangers if necessary, but hurry or you might miss the boat.

Stubbornness could get in the way of a good time — however morally questionable. Watch for men in black and uniforms. Those subpoenas aren't worth the paper they're written on.

GEMINI

May 21 – June 20

Continue delaying a thankless chore that you're dreading.

You've had a real struggle keeping things together in recent weeks but it's not your fault. You're about to climb the final mountain.

A long legal restriction will be lifted. Seek out a close friend of the opposite sex you enjoy being with and allow yourself to be embarrassingly candid.

CANCER

June 21 – July 22

Don't feel bad about unloading your worries. After all, after a few, you're the life of any party!

Load up the weekend with adventure. Your sensitivity to others' needs may leave you vulnerable to those envious of your ability to manipulate any situation.

Beware of friendly overtures from those who can't give you what you need.

LEO

July 23 – Aug. 22

Pesky little problems and loose ends will have your blood pressure in a spin. Don't worry, it will all work out — or completely collapse.

Face the weekend with a smile on your lips and a glow in your belly.

Confidence holds you in good stead as you approach those in charge with a new idea. Remember, they called Einstein crazy!

VIRGO

Aug. 23 – Sept. 22

The power of your positive thinking will be contagious and help you get unsuspected approval.

There's been some petty bickering among friends that may become a raging feud. Play both ends against the middle.

A trip to the mall proves to be lucky as you get an unexpected treat. Just be sure to wear clean blue socks!

LIBRA

Sept. 23 – Oct. 22

Being helpful could backfire this week. Someone you try to aid may mistake your interest as a way to boost your stature at their expense.

To side-step a clash, avoid the number "63."

Help by giving spontaneous suggestions based on whatever occurs to you at the moment. Clean your plate before someone else does.

SCORPIO

Oct. 23 – Nov. 21

A special someone finds you especially attractive at this time. Make sure this person is as old as he claims to be.

Controversy and disputes could be everywhere this week so wade in and start swinging!

There's a real possibility of scoring a KO if you join the battle — and that's something you desperately need now.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22 – Dec. 21

A split-second decision could bring new adventure into your life. But a phone call may offer a reason to pull out the plug.

If life seems to have lost some of its pizzazz, you've no one to blame but yourself. This is the week to add flash to your wardrobe, subscribe to a magazine or rekindle a fantasy romance with a pop star!

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22 – Jan. 19

Your smile — or your dentures — always seem to light up a room, so let 'er rip.

A wild story could spell trouble if you allow yourself to tell it. Your lucky numbers (19, 3, 44) could be especially important now.

You may encounter a blow to your self-esteem, but don't despair — it happens to most people at least once.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 20 – Feb. 18

A random contact in the next few days may result in a major change in your life. Stay open to new experiences, however questionable.

You are the idol of a child and most of the love you shower on this youngster will not be wasted.

Your stars promise hot prospects this week as long as you don't park a large car in a small garage.

PISCES

Feb. 19 – Mar. 20

Go slowly, think carefully and seize the chance to make money at any expense.

This is a good time to help loved ones with their problems — even if they don't want it.

Make the effort to contact family and friends and find out why they haven't contacted you. Before any meeting, scour the room for hidden agendas.

Readers all over the country are using psychic astrologer Serena Sabak's Lucky Lottery Numbers to help them win big bucks, and so can you! To find your Lucky Numbers, simply look them up under your birth sign in the chart below. If you need seven numbers for the lottery in your area, add your birthday. If you need fewer numbers, drop the numbers listed last.

YOUR LUCKY LOTTO NUMBERS

ARIES	8, 19, 28, 33, 36, 49
TAURUS	3, 8, 15, 22, 32, 42
GEMINI	7, 9, 17, 19, 40, 41
CANCER	1, 3, 28, 33, 38, 49
LEO	1, 3, 7, 12, 21, 33
VIRGO	13, 14, 29, 30, 34, 47
LIBRA	8, 15, 26, 35, 37, 41
SCORPIO	3, 12, 14, 23, 41, 48
SAGITTARIUS	2, 35, 38, 39, 43, 48
CAPRICORN	3, 13, 18, 23, 39, 41
AQUARIUS	1, 9, 25, 33, 34, 35

If your birthday is this week . . .

The year ahead promises to be one of your most productive or most surprising. If you have a job, expect a big change. Set lofty goals and you'll achieve them.

Cash from unexpected sources can pad your bank account considerably if you resist the urge to blow it all on the lottery.

LINCOLN ON $5 BILL

. . .WASHINGTON INSIDER REVEALS

WASHINGTON — The familiar face of Abraham Lincoln on the five-dollar bill could soon be replaced by daytime talk show host Oprah Winfrey.

By MATT BETT
Weekly World News

According to a well-placed insider, a congressional subcommittee is debating a secret initiative to replace all the United States Presidents featured on currency with modern celebrities.

"The first celebrity was obvious," said the Treasury Department source. "Everybody loves Oprah."

The initiative is in response to a landmark study that shows students are growing increasingly unfamiliar with this nation's historical figures.

According to the survey, kids are still familiar with George Washington, but beyond that, are clueless.

"Alexander Hamilton is on the ten-dollar bill. Even most members of Congress don't know who he is," the source admitted.

The proposed legislation would immediately update the five-dollar bill and gradually introduce changes to the remaining denominations.

"The lawmakers are working toward a nationwide rollout of the new bills by the end of 2002," the source confirmed. "Just in time for Christmas shopping."

The subcommittee has also considered the positive effect the new bills will have on the economy. There is consensus that the newly redesigned money will motivate people to shop more.

"Those debating the bill believe that people will have more fun spending money if it has pictures of familiar faces," the source concurred.

Other celebrities being considered include Martin Sheen, Christina Aguilera, Bruce Willis, Michael Jordan and Scooby Doo.

The congressional sessions have been conducted behind closed doors for fear of Hollywood publicists lobbying the lawmakers to feature their clients and crazed fans suggesting their favorite stars.

"The members of the Cameron Diaz fan club have been crashing the Capitol Hill switchboard," said the source. "But, she honestly doesn't have a chance."

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Who in the world is Alexander Hamilton? Ever heard of Benjamin Franklin? Should they stay on their bills or would you rather see your favorite celeb gracing the face of a fiver—a $10 or Franklin's C-note. Tell us what you think. Oops! Clumsy mom glues daughter's eye shut!

NEW YORK — A careless mom thought she was putting medicine in her daughter's eye — but grabbed a bottle of liquid cement instead and glued the girl's eye shut!

Thankfully, a quick trip to the emergency room and 30 minutes of flushing out the glue saved the kid's sight.

The mom, whose name was not released, told cops she was rushing to get her daughter to school and grabbed a bottle of nail glue instead of the girl's pinkeye medicine.

LOSE UP TO 2 POUNDS DAILY...

LOSE UP TO 2 POUNDS DAILY... WITHOUT DIET OR EXERCISE

"I LOST 44 POUNDS IN 30 DAYS"

"HERE'S THE STORY OF MY LAST DIET"

"I have always been unhappy with my figure, I've been yo-yo dieting since I was just 18 years old, now I'm 33 and a mother of two. For 15 years, my weight has fluctuated between 120 and 160 pounds, I'd always manage to lose weight for a special occasion, but afterwards, the pounds would pile on faster than it took to lose them. Then, in June of 1998, a movie star revealed on a T.V. show her weight loss secret. Later I found a Quick Slim ad in a magazine and ordered the product. I didn't know that would be my last diet! After 6 days, I lost 12 pounds, felt and looked great, I never had to go on a diet, I just found that I was eating less because I felt full after a few bites. During the next 24 days, I lost an additional 32 pounds. Since that day in July 98, I'm still at 118 pounds. The Quick Slim Fat Blocker worked wonders for me, I'm sure anyone can have the same success."

NEW Quick Slim EXTRA STRENGTH WITH BIOLOGICALLY-ACTIVE APPLE CIDER VINEGAR

AFTER

For 15 years, Janet G. yo-yo dieted without success. Fed up and desperate, she discovered a new miracle product to lose weight easily and permanently.

A WINNING COMBINATION WITH APPLE PECTIN TO LOSE WEIGHT FOREVER

The Quick Slim Fat Blocker is a new combination of herbs and plant-based ingredients, that we're all familiar with: Sea Kelp, Lecithin, Bromelain, Oyster Shell and Apple Cider Vinegar combined with the Apple Pectin. These proven effective ingredients are combined for the first time into one caplet.

«TWO YEARS AGO, I LOST 30 POUNDS IN 25 DAYS FOR MY WEDDING. NOW I'VE LOST ANOTHER 5 POUNDS IN A WEEKEND WITH THE QUICK SLIM EXTRA STRENGTH FORMULA. THANKS AGAIN»

QUICK SLIM FAT BLOCKER IS THE ORIGINAL AND POWERFUL APPLE PECTIN FORMULA

1 Apple Pectin is an energized enzyme that can ingest up to 900 times it's own weight in fat. That's why it's a fantastic FAT BLOCKER.

2 Apple Pectin attacks fat 24 hours a day, everyday. It's devoured and expelled through your system day after day to eliminate unsightly bulges.

3 The Quick Slim Fat Blocker is 100% natural. Forget about prescriptions. In no way can Apple Pectin harm your health, there's absolutely no side effects.

4 The Quick Slim Fat Blocker eliminates fat for effortless weight loss. Same results as: • Jogging 10 miles per week, • An hour of aerobics per day, • 15 hours of swimming or

Weekly World News

That's just a sample of the dazzling trivia Weekly World News editors have discovered while researching and writing the terrific stories you see in our paper every week. Here's more:

• The name Wendy did not exist until J.M. Barrie made it up for one of the lead characters in his book Peter Pan.

• Eskimos use refrigerators to keep food FROM freezing.

• In the 1940s, the FCC assigned television's Channel 1 to mobile services (two-way radios in taxicabs, for instance) but did not renumber the other channel assignments. That is why your TV set has channels 2 and up, but no channel 1.

• A thunderstorm has 100 times more energy than one Nagasaki-type atomic bomb, but the bomb's power could run your microwave 5 times longer than the storm's power!

• "Hang On Sloopy" is the official rock song of Ohio.

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.

• We've all seen the sentence above — but why? Typists use it to practice because it contains all 26 letters in the alphabet. Check for yourself!

• The reason firehouses have circular stairways is from the days of yore when the engines were pulled by horses. The horses were stabled on the ground floor and figured out how to walk up straight staircases.

• There are on average of 178 sesame seeds on a McDonald's Big Mac bun.

• In every episode of Seinfeld there is a Superman somewhere.

• When opossums are playing possum, they are not "playing." They actually pass out from sheer terror.

• The highest point in Pennsylvania is lower than the lowest point in Colorado.

• Ninety percent of New York City cabbies are recently arrived immigrants.

• Nutmeg is extremely poisonous if injected intravenously.

• If you have three quarters, four dimes, and four pennies, you have $1.19. You also have the largest amount of money in coins without being able to make change for a dollar.

• The first toilet ever seen on television was on Leave It to Beaver.

• Indian monkeys may be a reincarnated relative. Because of this they are allowed to run unrestrained and eat whatever their hearts desire. The Indian government has reported this is putting a huge strain on their already weak economy as the maniacal monkeys are consuming over a ton of food annually

• Only one person in two billion will live to be 116 or older.

• In Cleveland, Ohio, it's illegal to catch mice without a valid hunting license.

• The world's termites outweigh the world's humans 10 to 1.

• The first sign of mental illness is if you have hair on your knuckles. The second sign is if you look for it!

• Pound for pound, hamburgers cost more than new cars.

• When Heinz ketchup leaves the bottle, it travels at a rate of 25 miles per

• On average, 100 people choke to death on ballpoint pens every year.

• It's possible to lead a cow upstairs — not downstairs.

• The tiny hummingbird fears no other flying creature on earth. They have been known to attack eagles, vultures and even condors!

• It takes 3,000 cows to supply the NFL with enough leather for a year's supply of footballs.
